Evoca receives positive ESG rating from Sustainalytics

We are delighted to announce that Evoca has recently earned a positive ESG rating from Morningstar Sustainalytics, a globally recognised leader in research and ratings within the field.

Sustainalytics meticulously assessed Evoca's performance across a range of ESG KPIs, including environmental footprint, social responsibility, and corporate governance. This favourable evaluation is a testament to Evoca's steadfast commitment to sustainability and responsible business practices, showcasing its dedication to integrating these considerations into the core of its operations.

Notably, Evoca has secured a 'low risk' ESG rating, reaching even the 3rd and 4th positions in the Industrial Machinery and Machinery sectors, respectively.

This recognition from Sustainalytics reflects well on Evoca's dedication to minimising environmental footprint of products and processes, fostering positive social initiatives for its people and the local communities, and upholding high standards of corporate governance. It also positions the company as a compelling choice for investors who prioritise sustainable and socially responsible business practices.

We take pride in being acknowledged among the industry's top performers and eagerly anticipate the opportunity to contribute to shaping a sustainable future, together.
